U.S. firm to provide leadership training for Nigerians

From Niyi Bello, Akure

In order to sharpen their organisational abilities in Nigeria's developing economy, having identified leadership as one of the low points in the country's indices, a United States-based research organisation, GoldenCRI is organising a strategic leadership conference for Nigerian business leaders, academics and clerics across the country.

The leadership conference, according to the Executive Director of the organisation, Professor Solomon Akindele, is meant to expose beneficiaries to various leadership challenges and methods in a dynamic economy like Nigeria, with socio-cultural challenges with newsmen in the State, he said.

The conference would present a range of papers, which would provide immediate values to individual participants.

Organisation leaders to develop superior competitive and ethical strategies for managing organisations. He added that the conference would provide immeasurable values to individual participants that no fewer than eleven senior pastors from the Mountain of Fire and Miracle Church had been invited for the conference because of the contribution of the church to the development of the society.

He explained that the Senior Regional Overseer (USA) of the MFJ, Pastor Femi Ajila would be presenting a paper titled "Servant Leadership: Efficacy of Collaborative Growth in Organisation" in Faith Based Institution.
